Message

The Right to Information Act 2005, was a landmark legislation to make people participate in Governance by giving them access to information ensuring greater Transparency & Accountability. RTI has empowered people to understand how schemes and policies of the Government are framed and decisions are made.

It is a fact that all the information held by the Government ultimately belongs to the Government and people have right to know, whether decisions taken to spend their money were made honestly fairly or not? Thus sharing of information is considered healthy and beneficial for smooth functioning of the Democracy. RTI has definitely help in reducing corrupt practices empowering the citizens to have smooth access to public information.

In the annual report 2020-2021, an overview of the implementation of the RTI Act such as management of records, suo moto disclosure of information, disposal of information requests by Public Information Officers, disposal of First Appeals, disposal of Complaints and Second Appeals by State Information Commission, analysis on the denial of access to information, action taken against erring officials, penalties imposed and disciplinary action recommended by the State Information Commission, fee & charges collected, recommendations to Government etc. are included.

For the first time, we have attempted to provide Tables, Graphs & Diagrams with some photographs

During the Pandemic times, State Information Commission has started conducting hearings through audio-visual conferences. It is our endeavour to reduce the pendency & make information accessible to all through Information Technology & online platforms.

I have taken charge as the 4th Chief Information Commissioner, Kerala on 1/3/2021 and would like to thank everyone, who helped us perform better despite the challenging times.

(Dr. VISHWAS MEHTA)

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

The Right To Information Act 2005 is a landmark legislation to give power back to people and make them participate in Governance. The main objective of the Right to Information Act, 2005 is to ensure transparency and accountability in the working of every Public Authority in the country and to eliminate the scourge of corruption. The Act mandates a legal-institutional framework for setting out a practical regime of right to information for every citizen to secure access to information held by or under the control of Public Authorities. This is a path-breaking legislation that enables the country to break away from the colonial legacy of secrecy, which is anathema to a democratic system. Setting up of Information Commissions at the Central and State levels to ensure the effective implementation of the right to information regime in the country is one of the key provisions of the Act.

1.1 Vision and Mission

To provide for setting out the practical regime of right to information for citizens to secure access to information under the control of public authorities, in order to promote transparency and accountability in the working of every public authority. With the enactment of the Right to Information Act, 2005, the fact that the right to information is a fundamental right flowing from Articles 19(i)(a) and 21 of the Constitution of India has now been well settled. The ultimate aim of the Right to Information Act is to have a well informed citizenry, which is aware of its rights, and well trained officers of public authorities who are aware of their duties and functions under the Act. A Government committed to effective implementation of the Act together with active participation of non-governmental organizations and other activists and with an active Information Commission would be able to achieve the desired results. The State Information Commission, Kerala, which came into being on 21-12-

2005, is on the forefront to achieve the goals enshrined in the Right to Information Act, 2005 to mould an informed citizenry, to promote transparency of information held by or under the control of the public authorities, contain corruption, and to hold governments and its instrumentalities accountable to the governed.

These circulars were reported to be very useful by the public authorities for receiving and disposing of applications and 1st appeals under the Act. ## CHAPTER 4

RECOMMENDATIONS AND ANALYSIS

4.1 Pro-active Disclosure by Public Authorities

Even though pro-active disclosure was mandatory under section 4(1), it was noticed that pro-active disclosure was not done in a satisfactory manner by many public authorities. The public authorities should realize the importance of pro-active disclosure as, in the long run, such disclosure would reduce the number of requests for information. Hence it is recommended that Government suitably instructs the public authorities to disclose as much information as possible under section 4(1) of the Right to Information Act. Keeping in view of the cost and time elements involved in publishing and updating the information as per section 4 of the Act, by print media, it is advisable to immediately publish the information by internet through the official website/s of the Government of Kerala and the organizations concerned. Organizations may be encouraged to develop their own websites and provide the information through them. Funds available under e-governance may be utilized for the purpose. Services of NIC can also be utilized. A definite time frame may be set for this.

It is suggested that strict directions are issued by the Government so that all the public authorities fulfill their obligations laid down under Section 4 of the Right to Information Act, 2005, and instance/s of failure to comply with the directions should be viewed seriously and departmental disciplinary proceedings should be initiated against such delinquents.

4.2 Identification of Public Authorities

As defined in Section 2(h) of the Right to Information Act, public authorities include institutions and non-governmental organizations, which are controlled or substantially financed by the Government. But some institutions like aided schools and colleges, managements of religious institutions and places of worship, libraries etc., which are either controlled or substantially financed by the Government are under the impression that provisions of the Right to Information Act are not applicable to them. Hence, in order to avoid any ambiguity in the matter, it is recommended that each administrative department of the Government examines the issue, publish the list of public authorities under them and also instruct such public authorities to comply with the provisions of the Right to Information Act, 2005.

4.3 Appointment of Public Information Officers

Government had issued instructions and guidelines to all public authorities on the designation of State Assistant Public Information Officers, State Public Information Officers and the Appellate Authorities in all administrative units/offices. These instructions have been complied with to a great extent by most of the public authorities. But there are still some public authorities who have not yet designated the State Assistant Public Information Officers, State Public Information Officers and the Appellate Authorities. This is especially so in the case of non-governmental organizations, financed by the Government like the aided colleges and schools. Hence it is recommended that all administrative departments of the Government are directed to review the progress of implementation of the Right to Information Act starting from the designation of SAPIO/SPIO/AAs at different levels in the administrative units/ offices. It is also suggested that in the case of major offices, there should be more than one State Public Information Officer as contemplated under Section 5(1) of the Act to receive and dispose of applications under section 6(1) of the Right to Information Act. Hence, it is recommended that in major offices, adequate number of State Public Information Officers may be designated.

It is also found necessary that the State Assistant Public Information Officers/ State Public Information Officers/Appellate Authorities should display appropriate name boards for easy identification by the citizens. It is recommended that all public authorities may be given instructions to exhibit name boards of SAPIOs, SPIOs and AAs at conspicuous places in the office premises.

The State Information Commission had requested the Government to designate separate State Public Information Officers and Appellate Authorities in the Offices/Administrative wings of all Ministers including Chief Minister in order to avoid the situation of rejection of non-acceptance of application/Appeals under the Right to Information Act, 2005 for want of designated State Public Information Officers and Appellate Authorities.

Government have in G.O(RT) No.1795/2011/GAD dated 10/03/2011 designated State Public Information Officers and Appellate Authorities in the office of Ministers and Chief Minister.

4.4 Inadequacy of office Contingency Fund and Office Equipments

State Public Information Officers of some government offices have reported that they were finding it difficult to meet the expenditure for providing information for want of sufficient fund allocation. The Commission has been harping on this issue in the previous reports also.

There are many offices which are still not provided with photocopiers to take photocopies of documents. Hence, it is suggested that all government offices may be provided with adequate funds to meet the cost of providing information under the Right to Information Act. It is also recommended that action may be taken to provide computers and photocopiers in all government offices in a phased and time bound manner.

4.5 Dissemination of Information

It is the statutory duty of the State Public Information Officers to provide the information or reject the requests for information, as provided in Section 7(1). If the applicant is not satisfied with the reply given by the public information officer, the applicant has the right to appeal before the appellate authority of the public authority under section 19(1) of the Right to Information Act, 2005. It is necessary that the reasons for not providing the information, the period within which the appeal may be preferred and the particulars of appellate authority be clearly indicated while responding to the requests for information. It is recommended that all officers of public authorities may be given adequate training on the dissemination of information as envisaged under the Act.

4.6 The Disposal of First appeals

Section 19(1) of the Act provides for taking up a matter on first appeal before the first Appellate Authority in the public authority, when the applicant is not satisfied with the information provided by the SPIO of the public authority. The first appellate authority is to dispose of the appeal within a maximum period of 45 days. In many cases, it is seen that the first appellate authority either deals with the appeal late or does not dispose of at all. This inevitably results in the delayed receipt of information and/or the applicant is compelled to take up the matter on 2nd appeal before the State Information Commission, with its concomitant delay, additional expenditure and avoidable agony. Even in the case of timely disposal of first appeals, it is often noticed that the First Appellate Authorities do not meticulously and judiciously examine the complaints raised in the first appeal or hear the parties before taking the decision. They either agree with the decision of the SPIO blatantly or issue hasty and ambiguous directions to the SPIO. This, in practice, makes the first appeals a farce. Here again, the Commission would stress on providing training to the concerned officials to improve their perception of and performance under the Act.

4.7 Maintenance and retrieval of records

In many cases of disposal of requests asking for copies of documents, it was noted that the Public Information Officers fail to retrieve the documents requested because of absence of a proper system of record keeping. Section 4(1)(a) of the Right to Information Act requires that the public authorities shall maintain all its records duly catalogued and indexed in a manner and form which facilitates the right to information. Record keeping is an area neglected in most of the offices of Government and Public Sector Undertakings. Government may make a special drive in this direction so that the records available in the offices of the public authorities are properly catalogued, indexed and stored in a manner that facilitates easy retrieval of information.

4.8 Inclusion of Right to Information Act in the School & College Syllabi

Information is indispensable for the functioning of true democracy. People have to be kept informed of the functioning of the public authorities in the government at large. Right to Information Act, 2005 is a cardinal legislation having its base in the democratic principles, especially the freedom of speech and expression guaranteed under the Constitution to each and every citizen of India. Hence, it is recommended that a chapter on the Right to Information Act, 2005 is incorporated in the school syllabi at high school level.

4.9 Intelligence and Security Organizations

Section 24 of the Act provides that the provision of the Right to Information Act, 2005 shall not apply to the Intelligence and security Organizations specified in the second schedule being organizations established by the Central Government or any information furnished by such organizations to that Government. In tune with this provision 8 organizations have been included in the notification issued under SRO.No.127/06 dated 07/02/2006. The Commission would like to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that a large number of organizations and wings have been exempted from the purview of the RTI Act without proper application of mind. Only organizations dealing with intelligence and security matters and that too subjects relating to the above aspects should be excluded from the purview of the Act. Blanket exemption granted to such organizations u/s 24 of the Act defeats the objective and true spirit of the Act. The Commission urges the Government to review the exemption granted under the above provision.

4.10 Digitization of Records

Registers and records to be maintained on a permanent basis are to be digitized for their proper maintenance and easy retrieval. Complaints of loss of records are plenty and urgent steps are warranted for their digitization on an urgent basis. The General Administration Department may issue clear guidelines with adequate provision for funds so that the efforts in this regard are undertaken with all seriousness it deserves.

4.11 Pendency of Complaint Petitions and Second Appeals

The huge pendency of complaint petitions and second appeals in the State Information Commission has been the result of lack of timely appointment of Information Commissioners. The Commission has been working with one or two Information Commissioners for considerable periods resulting in piling up of large pendency. The Government is requested to appoint the Chief Information Commissioner and the 5 Information Commissioners well in time so that the complaint petition and second appeals are attended to in time.
